Weekly Comment

The current technical condition for META is strong and the underlying indicators should keep the current uptrend intact. The stock has outperformed the market over the last 50 trading days when compared to the S&P 500. MACD-LT, an intermediate-term trend indicator, is bullish at this time. META's chart formation indicates a strong rising trend. Upside momentum, as measured by the 9-day RSI indicator is very strong. The stock is in a short-term overbought condition based on a Slow % K stochastic reading of 80 or higher. Over the last 50 trading sessions, there has been more volume on up days than on down days, indicating that META is under accumulation, which is a bullish condition. The stock is trading above a rising 50-day moving average. This validates the strong technical condition for META. The stock is above its 200-day moving average which is pointed up indicating that the intermediate term trend is bullish.
